The present work is designed to study the localization of mitochondrial phospholipase A2 in rat liver. The data obtained indicate that about 3-6% of mitochondrial total phospholipase A2 is in the lumen of the organelle. It was also demonstrated that mitochondrial lumenal phospholipase A2 activity is stimulated by ATP and inhibited by Ca2+. In contrast, the mitochondrial outer membrane activity is stimulated by ADP but not affected by Ca2+. The data obtained indicate that a Ca2(+)-independent phospholipase A2 is present in the lumen of rat liver mitochondria.Q: How to use parameters in an API call in CognitoIdentityClient So I have a list of Invite Codes stored in my API that I use to activate a user in Cognito. I want to have my lambda function make a call to activate using the code in the list. How do I pass in my list of Invite Codes to be used to a CognitoIdentityClient object Currently, i have config.UserPoolClientId = "xxxxxx"; config.ClientId = "xxxxx"; config.ClientSecret = "xxxxx"; config.EnableUnauthenticatedIdentities = true; var poolData = new PoolData { Username = "xxxxxxx", PoolId = "xxxx", Email = "xxxx@xxxxxx.com" }; string clientId = config.GetValue("ClientId"); string clientSecret = config.GetValue("ClientSecret"); var authenticationData = new AuthenticationData {
