

The key element of HyperMotion technology is how it captures the in-game movements of 22 professional footballers. These movements are then played back in real-time, allowing players to feel the responsive movements of their soccer skills from the very first ball. Every move made by every player on the pitch is captured by the motion-capture suit, and each step is brought to life during the game. A player will be able to see the perfect pass they've just created be played out in full by his teammates, as they come alive with their own animations. Players will also learn that a long pass is not necessarily a good pass, and a pass straight to a teammate's feet won't work every time. With HyperMotion, there is always more than one way to play out a pass. "We're so excited to be able to tell these players' stories in a new way, and let them move the football in ways never seen before," said Jacob Mlyangana, Creative Technical Director for FIFA 22. "Never before have they been able to experience a story like this." New Commentary Feature: Overcast The new Overcast Commentary feature is just one example of the commitment to deliver FIFA's epic story across all of its games. Overcast is a directional mix of sound, recorded dialogue, and crowd noise that will create an epic match-day experience for fans. "Overcast allows fans to feel what it's like to be there live," said Paul Merson, Sound Designer at EA. "As fans move around the stands, the direction they are facing will affect the voices they hear, and how they sound. In the same way that the new lighting and experience system on in-game pitch creates a dynamic environment, Overcast creates a dynamic commentary experience." Determination in Motion Players will also receive new ways to engage with the game through the new Dedication Meter, which is also the name of a brand-new Game Mastery feature. This new growth mechanic taps into the same motivation that drives players in real-life. Dedication Meters can be earned in FIFA, for all of the in-game rewards players will gain by playing at a high level. They can be found on FIFA's Career page and in-game. The Dedication Meter can be filled by

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- Live Through the Match-- Breathe life into the most sophisticated transfer market the world has ever known. See the news items flow, the cross-hairs in a goal kick zoom in, reactions and emotions scale. Take over your team in stunning VR, with the world's best football FIFA players-- and you get to direct the action.
- Call the Shots
- Compete on a Grand Stage-- FIFA 22's biggest stages feature the largest arenas in the world and the most photorealistic, cutting-edge stadiums. The ball will react differently on these vast, immersive playing surfaces, with new physics that respond faster to touches and passes. As you pass, the ball dissipates energy in a new, revolutionary way, affecting dribbling, bouncing, and spin.

Also included, automatic positioning, improved ball speed and balance, and the ball's aerodynamics are all tuned to play in your style. Creative Approach Create and share your own teams of 32 players from new leagues and regions, and take your game to new levels with new game modes. Your selected new league will see its data given a makeover and new team uniform, including a new stadium and home and away kits. Play as African, Middle Eastern or South American teams and explore the incredible variety of new kits and players to unlock. Exciting Improvements Harder, Smarter AI Teams will more dynamically react to your tactics as they seek to defeat you, making gameplay more unpredictable, including more intelligent target switching and AI defenders adjusting how they react to attacks. New Assist system Meaningful communication is an essential part of soccer, which is why the new Assist system will now reward you for being a vocal leader. When you have possession of the ball and are close to goal, you'll see other players reacting to you in real-time with new prompts to tell you the best course of action. Whether it's a teammate urging you to hold the ball up or a full-back telling you to look for an entry pass, you'll be rewarded for communicating with your team to ensure everyone is playing their part. New Defending AI Simulations often ask for more than just raw physical stats and a passing rating. Defending will also be a critical area of development with smarter AI. Defending is integral to your team's cause but it's the minute details that will make or break a match. This summer saw improvements to headers, double teams and set-pieces, along with a boost to the pace of AI gameplay across all modes. New Player and Coach Ratings The revamped player ratings system will give teams more flexibility in their lineups and will make it easier to find players that fit their strategy. New FIFA Ultimate Team card backs have been redesigned to be more
