With the new engine, the game features a heightened sense of speed and strategy. Off the ball tactics and sublime touches, such as the exquisite chip or a precise through ball, produce their share of excitement. However, Player Intelligence also plays a very important role. Under pressure, players are using their skills to escape a tight situation. During a match, players use cognitive functions to predict the movement of opponents and remain one step ahead. Another major advance in FIFA 22 Torrent Download is the availability of the Pride Video, which allows players to watch Pride footage live from a match. The coach can then study and analyse the play, perfect it in a training session, and then reproduce it on a virtual pitch. The Pride video also enables a more visceral match experience, as the coaching staff can see the tactics and physical movements of its players without having to play the game themselves. The Pride video allows you to extract information from 24 hours of matches and can be compared with a video of a training session using 3D MatchCoach. Watch the live demonstration of the Pride Video in action: Gameplay demo - IGN E3 2016 Stage In this scene from FIFA 22, the coach uses the Pride Video to view a match from the last couple of seasons. The coach is then able to work on training sessions and model them in an elite-level training environment, which helps to replicate the intensity of the game. The Pride Video also allows players to view matches they've been a part of, such as the 2016/17 UEFA Champions League and the English Premier League. It's also possible to create match reports using the new Player Intelligence tool. This improves player analysis and adds a new dimension to online play as well as the coaching staff. New camera features and shots to take At the Sony booth at E3, FIFA 20 showed how players would be able to take advantage of the new Pro-Directions Camera to track a player and control their movement in a tactical way. You can use these to dictate passes, accurately cut off runs, tackle hard and exploit gaps between players to break down defences.
